Letter of Recommendation

August 1, 2002

New Castle Electric

To whom it may concern:

It is a pleasure to recommend New Castle Electric. We recently completed a large residential home of significant magnitude. The electrical portion was completed by New Castle Electric. It was a pleasure to work with Geoff and his crew throughout the entire project. Of all the subcontractors and trades involved in completing this large project, New Castle was the finest. Their work was neat and accurate. They are gentlemen. Eventhough they are in high demand and very busy, they made us feel as though we were their only clients. They returned calls promptly and responded to our needs and requests in a timely manner. Geoff would take time to inform us of all the options so we could make informed decisions. Once a decision was made, installation began without further pressure to overspend. We were therefore able to keep the electrical phase of the project within budget. Dealing with some subcontractors was frustrating. However, I can truly say that working with New Castle was indeed a pleasure. Should any future projects require electrical support, Geoff will certainly get the first call. It is without hesitation, that I give him my highest recommendation.

Sincerely,

Scott S. Dickson, D.M.D.
